This is the Best Mac OS X Keyboard/Mouse driver for Mac. You can change the keystroke and mouse speed to your preference. You can also change the current application keystroke to create shortcut, etc. Mirror support: Download this latest version of Keymacro and transfer the files on a Windows system to start mirroring. The Windows OS can also be the target of the transfer operation. New language support: Support for Chinese, French, Italian and Spanish, for the latest version of Keymacro. What's new in version 1.0.4 New: You can now download the entire contents of Keymacro directly to the Mac OS X Snow Leopard Disk (i.e. the Mac OS X "My Documents" folder). This is currently supported by Mac OS X 10.6.6 only. Other Improvements: When you drag a file to the "Applications" folder or "Applications Download" folder, it will automatically be downloaded. It's now easier to drag and drop files to the "Applications Download" folder (you can now drag to a "Downloads" folder and it will automatically be downloaded). When you drag a file to the "Applications" folder, you can now set which application to launch when you double click on the file. When you export a project to HTML, you can now choose which file(s) to put in the HTML index.html file. When you export a project to GIF or PSD, you can now add more options for the file name. When you export a project to PNG, you can now choose which file(s) to put in the folder. In Keymacro preferences, the "Auto save" option will now show the number of files that have been saved. Resetting all keys to their default will be made easier. The "Auto activate" and "Auto deactivate" shortcuts will now work in all windows. The "File" menu will now look much better, when "Keymacro" is not selected as the default application. Bug fixes: The application will no longer crash when saving a project to HTML if the name of the project contains an apostrophe. The application will no longer crash when exporting a project to GIF if the GIF contains a file extension (.GIF, .PNG, or .JPG). The software will no longer crash when exporting a project to PSD. 1d6a3396d6

GeSHi : License: GPL v3 or later Version 1.8.3 - 05-12-2011 DESCRIPTION GeSHi is a perl script for validating HTML/XHTML and XML documents against the DTD/XMLSchema specifications. It is not an HTML validator, but more a software tool to check the source code of a website to see if its valid. It also generates nice-looking HTML output. While there are a lot of validators out there that are easy to use, GeSHi is special: it is written in Perl, has a powerful script engine, is very flexible, is free, and works on Windows, Linux and Mac OS X. It also has an integrated web-browser allowing you to browse the DTD and XMLSchema from within the program and see in real time what its validating. GeSHi Features: + support for several DTD/XMLSchema specifications (XHTML1.1, HTML 4.01, HTML 5.0, HTML 4.01 Transitional, XHTML 1.0 Strict, XHTML 1.0 Transitional, XML 1.0, XML 1.1) + support for several DTD/XMLSchema specifications (HTML, DTD and XMLSchema) + XMLSchema + get a separate diagnostic file with information about all validation errors + generate a nicely designed HTML-document for the validation report (table, text, styles, elements, etc.) + check parameters (paths, encoding) + DTD/XMLSchema validation without external DTD/XMLSchema parser (internal, fast) + HTML-validation (support external DTD) + XML validation (support external DTD) + XPath support (in DTD-validation only) + support for an unlimited number of documents + support for several directories + DTDs can be stored in a Perl directory (speed up validation) + supports both absolute and relative paths + support for multiple DTD files in the same directory + support for multiple XMLSchema files in the same directory + a set of automatic aliases and a tiny parser + works
